Department of Energy

It is my pleasure to transmit the final report of DOE's Advanced Scientific Computing Advisory Committee (ASCAC), entitled "Can the United States Maintain Its Leadership in High-Performance Computing?" This report was prepared in response to the charge to ASCAC issued by Steve Binkley, then Acting Director of the Office of Science.

I am grateful to ASCAC and the ASCAC subcommittee, chaired by Jack Dongarra (ASCAC/Tennessee) and Ewa Deelman (USC).

Sincerely,

Daniel A. Reed
Chair, Advanced Scientific Computing Advisory Committee
